Funding Sources on the Internet

By: Joshua C. Phillip, Western CAPT Coordinator
Edited by Ken Smith, M.P.H., Project Manager

For some people, searching the Internet for funding sources and grant writing information can be difficult and time consuming. However, others find that finding funding sources on the internet can be a fun process. This Tip of the CAPT provides some of the many websites with information on funding resources, public and private, and some sites that provide information on grant writing. They are offered here to help those who are looking for the right kind of funds for their prevention project and plans.

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA).

<http://www.samhsa.gov/grants/grants.html> This web site offers information on SAMHSA's current funding opportunities.

Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP)

<http://www.samhsa.gov/centers/csap/modelprograms/grants.htm> This is an excellent site for grants and grant seeking resources.

Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Program (OJJDP)

<http://ojjdp.ncjrs.org/grants/safeschools.html>

Click on Grants and Funding to learn about funding opportunities from OJJDP, other agencies within the Office of Justice Programs or the Federal Government, or in the private sector.

HUD's Neighborhood Networks (ONDCP)

<http://www.hud.gov/nnw/nnwaboutnn.html> This web site will give you basic information about the importance of neighborhood networks and coalitions.

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.

<http://www.rwjf.org/index.jsp> This is the largest single health philanthropy in the world, giving away over $200 million annually.

Federal Register

http://www.access.gpo.gov/su_docs/aces/aces140.html The official daily publication for Rules, Proposed Rules, and Notices of Federal agencies and organizations.

American Legacy Foundation

<http://www.americanlegacy.org/index2.html> (Tobacco Specific). At the heart of American Legacy Foundation's grant program is the effort to identify new and improved ways to develop effective tobacco control programs.

School Grants <http://www.schoolgrants.org/>

Your one-stop site for K-12 Grant Opportunities

Community Mental Health Services (CMHS)

<http://www.mentalhealth.org/cmhs> Block grants given to all states and jurisdictions.

Grant Proposals for Non Profit Organizations

<http://www.grantproposal.com/> This is an instructional web site on grant writing and grant proposals, including how to hire a consultant.

Internet Resources for Grants and Foundations

<http://www.ala.org/acrl/resmay97.html> The American Library Association reviewed and selected over 30 sites that provide an overview of grants and foundations.

The six regional CAPTs are funded by the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention in the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration.
